REAR ADMIRAL RICHARD E. BYRD

DEDICATION

• It seems most appropriate to me that this annual, with travel as its theme, should be dedicated to Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd. His life has been symbolic of that curiosity which lives in all of us, regarding strange lands. At the age of twelve he toured the world unaccompanied. As a young Naval officer he traveled constantly. His flights across the Atlantic and over the previously unknown areas of the Arctic and Antarctic are too well known to require more than passing mention. They were all manifestations of the urge to travel. It is certain that all of you will some day travel in your own and other countries. Perhaps, in future years, some of you will help to develop means of travel, following the example of Byrd, be the first to visit untraveled lands.

FRANK WEAD,
Lieutenant Commander
United States Navy (Retired)

But I wish for the near future.
Yours. Granbery.

ADMINISTRATION

ITALY

• Italy, the one-time natural bridge uniting Europe and Africa, is a land of romantic charm and history. Colorful ruins, cloisters, old castles, and the quietude of the rural scenes draw tourists to this country. The outlines of towers, churches, and castles standing out with distinct perfection because of the clearness of the air, enhance the beauty of Italy. Added to this, vast plains and isolated peaks of volcanic origin with their majestic spell complete the picture of this sunny, boot-shaped peninsula, the natural home of the artist and composer.

GIRLS' ASSIZE COURT

Helping with the "Clean Speech" campaign, starting and working for the abolishment of hall guards, correcting the conduct of students during assemblies, and enforcing the locker rules in the girls' gymnasium, are some of the activities of this student governing body for girls. This court wishes to guide the students toward the goal of good citizenship.

Officers for the fall term were Jeanne Miller, president; Helene Wittenberg, vice-president; Georgette Foster, secretary; and Margaret Root, treasurer. Officers for the following semester were Jane Montgomery, president; Adele Mosely, vice-president; and Dorothy Albrecht, secretary-treasurer.

Commissioners of yards, assemblies, halls, hall lockers, gym lockers, lunch lines, and publicity were elected to aid the progress of this court in its activities.

The Assize Court has been able to offer more efficient service to the student body than ever before.

It is sponsored by Mrs. Mildred Brown, girls' vice-principal.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The Girls' League is the only organization in which every girl automatically became a member on entering Fairfax.

Its main purpose is to sponsor and carry on the charity work in the school. The Girls' League Cabinet, which is composed of twelve members and is sponsored by Mrs. Marguerite Behrman, is the governing body under which the Girls' League representatives act as the go-between between the cabinet and their home-rooms.

Hammel street school is the school officially adopted by Fairfax, and is supplied with food, candy, and toys at Christmas, with baskets of food at Thanksgiving, and layettes during the spring.

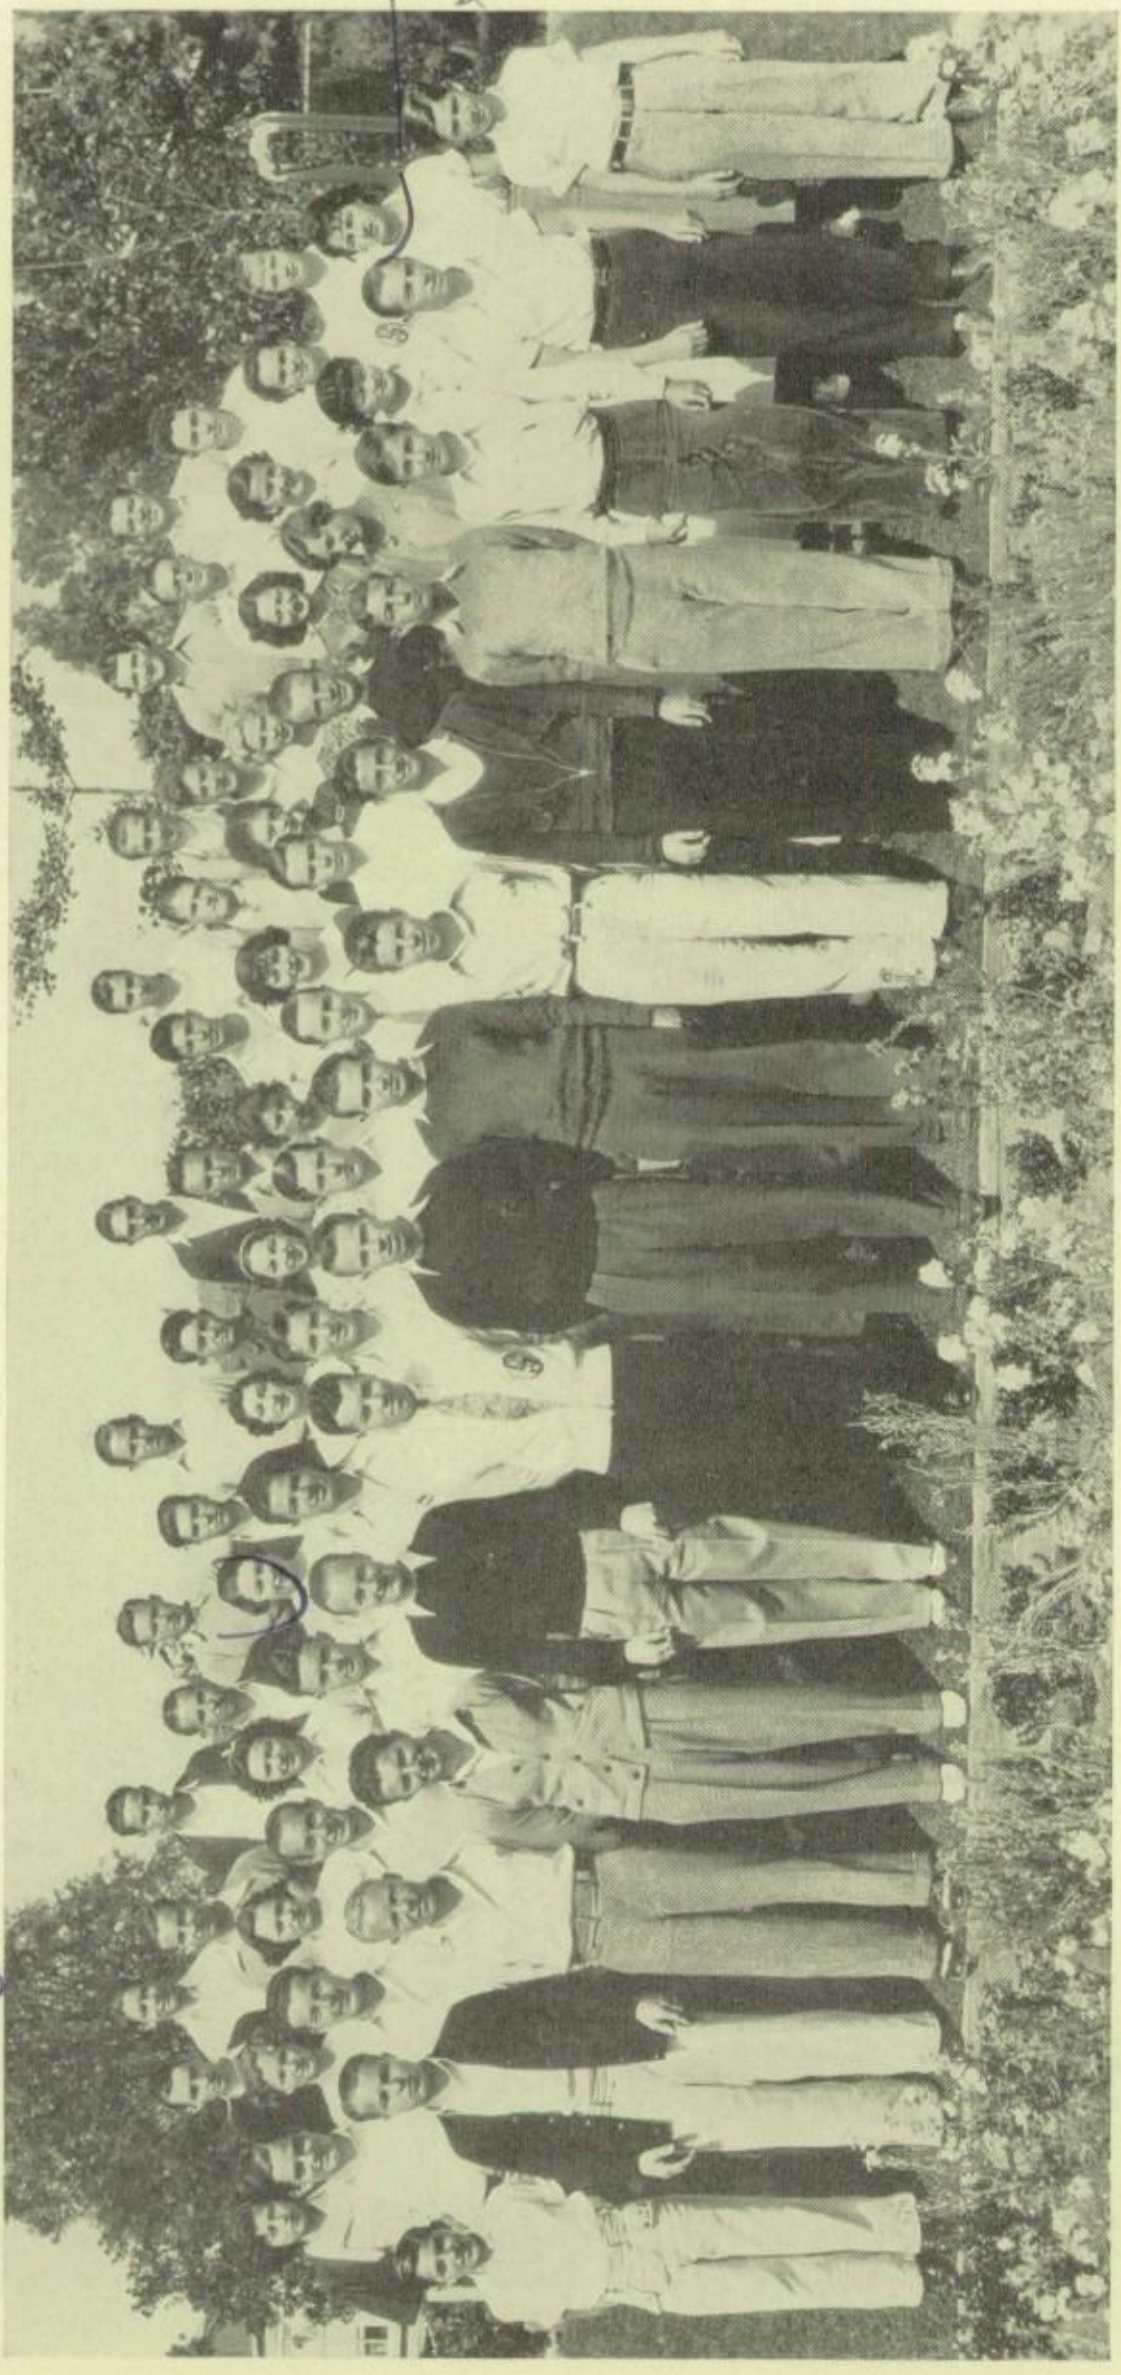

Monthly dances are held, the proceeds of which are put in the Girls' League fund. This fund is used to help supply the children of Hammel and also to help the needy families of students in our own school.

ALASKA

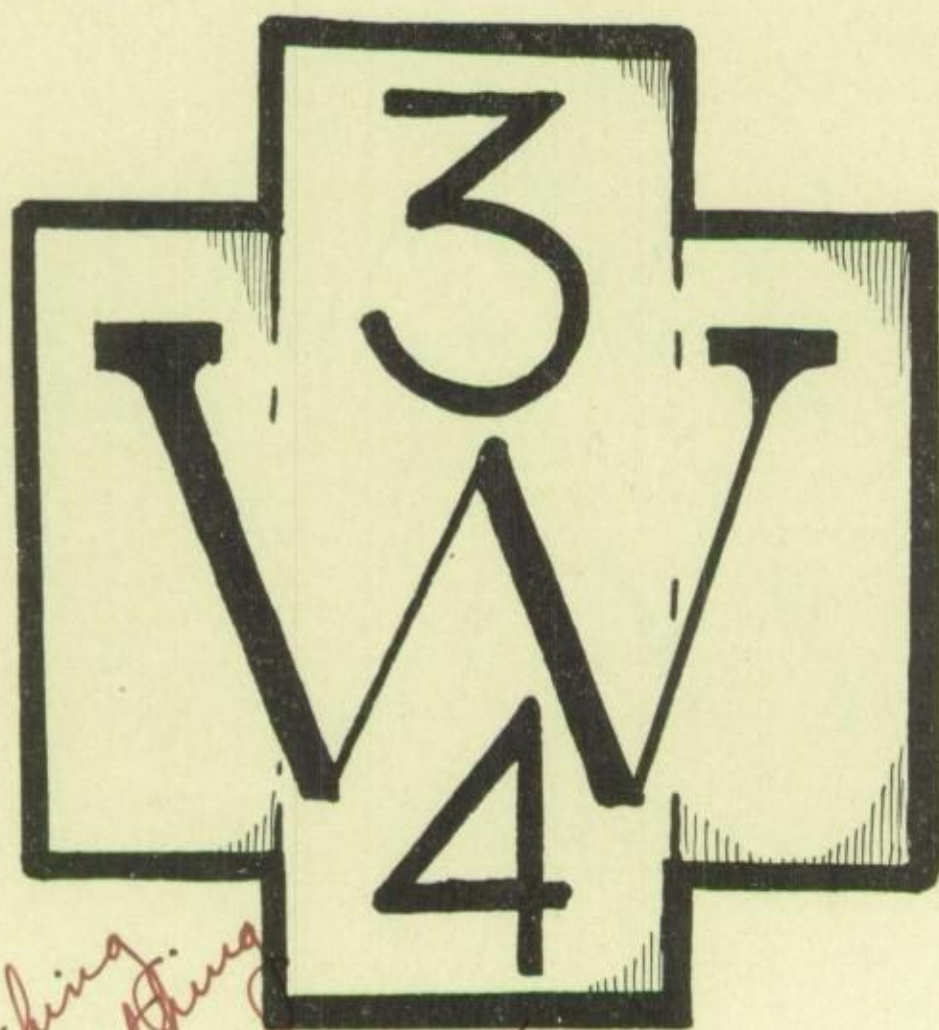

• A land of ice and snow with an atmosphere of cold and relentless beauty: this is Alaska. The glistening spray streams from the breaking waves, refreshing the wind and exulting in its own dazzling beauty. Little glints of sunshine glitter and gleam as they are mercilessly cast against the rugged, icy peaks. This wonderland is a huge dewdrop reflecting light and sparkling magnificence with tiny, playful sunbeams peeping through the crevices of the irregular cliffs and crags, throwing rich colors on this land of snow and ice.

Dear Jerry,
Here's hoping that our friendship begins again.
Good luck

WINTER '34 CLASS

The good ship "Class of W'34" steamed safely into port, February 1, 1934, captained by Neil Rasmussen, president; Kelly Huston, vice-president; Margaret Barlow, secretary; and Hillard Pettler, treasurer. Miss Jessie Lickel was sponsor of the Class, and piloted the boat.

The "log book" telling us of several of the important events of the "cruise",—says that Color Day, with the Senior A's donning their class sweaters of gray brush wool, and with the presentation of "Dude Ranch", was a great success.

Then came the traditional Senior A, Senior B sack rush, with the upper class emerging victorious. Then the military ball, with uniformed officers and girls in picturesque gowns. This event is expected to become traditional.

A tea for the mothers of the students in the Senior classes was given, with girls of the Senior A and Senior B classes officiating as hostesses. "The Poor Nut" was on board, and the shipmates witnessed a hilarious presentation of the Senior Play.

Graduating students of journalism were entertained at the "Thirty Luncheon"; "thirty" signifying the end. By only a slight margin, the Senior A's triumphed over the Senior B's in the scholarship contest. It was the second winning of the scholarship contest for the "W'34".

The last week of school was one round of hustle and bustle, climaxed by an impressive commencement service in the school auditorium on the evening of February 1.

The ship "Class of W'34" steamed into port, but not for long. Most of the passengers on the "W'34" boarded the next ship out, "College"; some, the good ship "Work"; some the good ship, "Travel" or "Rest"; and a few ventured out into the sea of matrimony on the good ship "Marriage".

A successful journey to all!

S '34 SENIORS

Trade of Love to a darling girl (and a grand sinner) / Darryl Hunt

S'34 OFFICERS

Jeanne Cameron, Tom Nichols, Jane Montgomery, Robin Ritchey.

SUMMER '34 CLASS

Success has been a true feature of the Summer '34 Class. This success was due, first, to the loyalty of the members to the class itself. The cooperation among the students has been excellent. Next, it has been a happy year.

Everyone seemed to be happy and to be proud of his class-mates (and many of these class-mates show promise of fine accomplishments in the future). The achievements, among which are the Color Day, the Senior Play, and the establishing of a Flower Day on May 1, are all examples of the initiative and cooperation among the students. The class officers surely should have credit for being such fine and industrious leaders. These leaders were: Tom Nichols, president; Jeanne Cameron, vice-president; Jane Montgomery, secretary; and Robin Ritchey, treasurer.

But all of this success has not been accomplished by the students alone. Miss Le Ora Baxter, the sponsor of the Summer '34 class, has been a true guiding light. With her patience and help, the class has safely passed over many obstacles and has safely reached its goal.

WINTER '35 CLASS

With the election of Lloyd Dunn, president of the class of W'35, Daniel Kraemer, vice-president; Florence Shapiro, secretary; and Raymond Lynd, treasurer; the Senior B's waded into a term of intensified rivalry and class spirit.

At an assembly previous to the Senior B Color Day, the tactful Senior A's gave their rival class a bit of extra publicity by singing the Senior B class song. At the W'35 Color Day, at which "Lady for a Day", featuring May Robson, was shown, the Senior B's retaliated by singing two class songs.

Breaking away from all previous styles of pins, the Senior B's adopted a gold guard inlaid with black enamel, which is in the shape of an airplane.

Making an innovation in the line of challenges, the Senior B girls challenged the Senior A girls to a basketball game. The Senior B boys challenged their Senior A rivals to a basketball game, which was won by S'34, and a tug-of-war, won by W'35.

SCHOOL YEAR

Dear Jerry:
There really seems no sense in writing like this in your annual because I can only wash your luck, happiness and success as every body else don't you know that I do even if I you see I like to write it because by writing the same thing I would not be so. Anyway I have taken up a lot of space and have not written anything.
That's different. Always your friend

JAPAN

• Japan is a fantastic world with an underlying strangeness that is impossible to describe. The soft, gentle breezes caress and playfully toss the blushing cherry-blossoms in the air. The blossoms flutter and float for awhile and then gently sink to the ground below, converting it into a pink and white carpet of fluffy sweetness. Far out at sea, white-winged ships gracefully sail on their various errands. Japan, the land of cherry-blossoms and golden-voiced nightingales! How beautiful it is!

THE COLONIAL

Considering its diminutive size, the 1934 Colonial Staff has issued a book which it hopes will equal, if not surpass those of former years. The staff is made up of ten students besides the editor, Jaye Brower, and the sponsors, Mr. Harry Underwood, Miss Margaret Donaldson, and Mr. Henry O. Backer. Robert Brann and Andrew Spinx were the staff photographers, George Haight, the art editor, Thelma Lindhome, assistant editor, and Glenn Bell, the advertising manager. Florence Shapiro editor of copy was assisted by Al Commagere, assistant editor, Ethel Mandell, and Pauline Easterday. David Freeman edited Sports, and Lillian Weber acted as business manager.

Who says we won't have the biggest annual in history?

The work of the staff has consisted of the writing, the arrangement of the book, and all the art work.

Always keeping in mind the desire of the student body for a bigger, as well as a greater annual, various "dummies" have been made, plans changed, and as a result of the unusually fine support of the student body in the matter of sales, the present book has taken form.

Under the direction of Ada Ruinello of W'34, and Beatrice Jolles of S'34, Fairfax has been ably covered in seven neighborhood newspapers. Margaret Calicott writes all events of considerable importance for the Hollywood Citizen News with which we are all familiar, and Stanley Speer, a Co-editor of the Gazette sports staff, covers all Fairfax sports for the Citizen. Happenings that are of city wide interest are sent to downtown newspapers, and Fairfax high school is well publicized throughout the city. Although Mrs. Jessie Stromberger sponsors the publicity of the school, as well as the Gazette, the two are not connected in any way.

DEBATE

Starting a new idea at Fairfax High School, the class of summer '34 has presented a silver cup to the school to be presented each semester to the winning couple of the Senior B and A debate. This term, Barbara Hirshfeld and Dana Bergh, representing the Senior A class, won the trophy. Prominent in interclass debate this semester, are Clarence Honig, Commissioner of Oral Arts, Willard Huych, Mitchell Covell, Dana Bergh, Barbara Hirshfeld, Leonard Widam, Lloyd Dunn, Lois Gilman, Jack Kahn, and Marjorie Kaufman.

The finals of the interclass debate this term turned out to be, strangely enough, two Senior A's and two Senior B's, Willard Huyck and Lloyd Dunn of the class of W'35, and Barbara Hirshfield and Marjorie Kaufman of S'34. The cup which has the winner's names inscribed on it semi-annually, bears the names, this semester, of the two members of the Senior B class.

Inter-class debating seems at last to have come into its own as a popular student body activity, and the resource, forcefulness, and all around ability which have been shown are gratifying to the extreme.

GROWING PAINS

DRAMA

Advanced students of the drama classes are known as "Colonial Masques" and are active members of this organization. Beginning students are associate members. During the first term, Bill Cole was elected president; Mary Lou Cook held this office the following semester. Activities of the first term include the following: One-act plays, "Trifles", by Gerstenberg, and "The Puppeteer"; and "The Poor Nut", a three-act, by Elliot Nugent.

Beginning classes gave a Verse-Speaking Choir Program in the auditorium for Armistice Day. The Play Day program was favored with a dramatization. A Club Program of original pantomimes, impersonations, and skits were selected from the Drama I Classes.

The second semester also boasts of many achievements, including a one-act play, "The Eligible Mr. Bangs", and an original skit written by Mrs. Ray's creative writing class which was presented over Radio Station K.M.P.C. Nettie Ingraham and Beatrice Jolles gave a radio program of original verse and prose. A number was furnished by Jean Franklin and Nettie. "Growing Pains", a three-act presentation, brought to a close a successful year.

This play deserves special mention as it brought more and higher glory to the "Colonial Masques". All parts were very well done, due to the splendid direction of Miss Araxie Jamgochian.

MEXICO

- The golden sun bursts forth upon a sea of cactus and upon blinding white stretches of sand. Far away in the distance majestic mountains beckon invitingly. But their cool beauty is only a mirage, for their jagged crests are waterless and are slapped and pounded with gusts of hot sand. Finally, at the end of the day, tall, scraggly trees are tinted colorful shades of reddish-gold and blue, when the sun, weary after its all-day vigil, sinks slowly to rest behind the purple mountains.

HEAVYWEIGHT FOOTBALL

Although possessed of perhaps the finest potential team in the league, Fairfax's 1933 football season can be classed as only a disappointment. The team always appeared as though it would suddenly explode, all of its potential power erupt, and from then on it would be strictly unbeatable. However, there seemed to be nothing to ignite that power, and it remained—just potential. Eight lettermen was the foundation on which this team was built. Five of the team's outstanding players were not lettermen. But even that meant nothing for this team never "found" itself. It won two games and it lost four. Following is the review of its season.

FAIRFAX VS. FRANKLIN

Following a mediocre practice season in which they were at times impressive and at times disappointing, Coach Frank Shaffer's Class A football team opened its 1933 season October 13, on Van Cleve field, against Franklin high school. Inspired by the hard playing of halfback Howard Tobin, the Colonials vanquished the Panthers by a 14-7 score in a great fourth quarter rally. The first half was uneventful, but opening the third quarter, Franklin completed a pass to the Colonial twenty-four yard line from which point the receiver dashed over the goal. The conversion was good. Finally in the fading minutes of the fourth period, Tobin was rushed into the game and proceeded to lead a twenty-five yard drive down the field to a touchdown. A pass scored the conversion. A few minutes later the Colonials, taking advantage of a penalty, poured plays through the Franklin line for their second touchdown. Tobin was definitely outstanding in this game.

FAIRFAX VS. HOLLYWOOD

Inspired by the preceding week's victory, it was with high hopes that the following Friday Colonials traveled to meet their strong rivals, Hollywood High. However, no sooner had the record turnout for this game seated itself than Hollywood had six points registered on the scoreboard. Even before Coach Shaffer's men could get their bearings, Harold Sieling, the Redshirt's All-City quarterback, on a spinner play, had been shaken loose through the center of the line, evaded the secondary defense and had run forty-three yards to a score. The conversion attempt failed.

Although the Colonials did their best to overcome the six point handicap, Hollywood's efforts were also unable to score, although Seiling's repeated gallops made them always dangerous.

FAIRFAX VS. JEFFERSON

Encountering Jefferson High School, on Van Cleve field, in their third league game, Coach Frank Shaffer's team was badly outplayed, beaten 14-0.

Both of Jefferson's scores came in the first quarter when the Democrats' All-City left-end, Woodrow Strode, carried the ball on end-around reverse plays. Fairfax was practically unable to stop this play which netted about twenty yards per try.

The Colonials were closest to a score in the third period when a series of line bucks featuring halfback Benny Butts, advanced the ball to the one-yard line. However, Jefferson rallied at this point, quenching the Fairfax spurt. Injuries weakened the Colonials. Leonard Fredericks and Harry Kruer were outstanding for Fairfax.

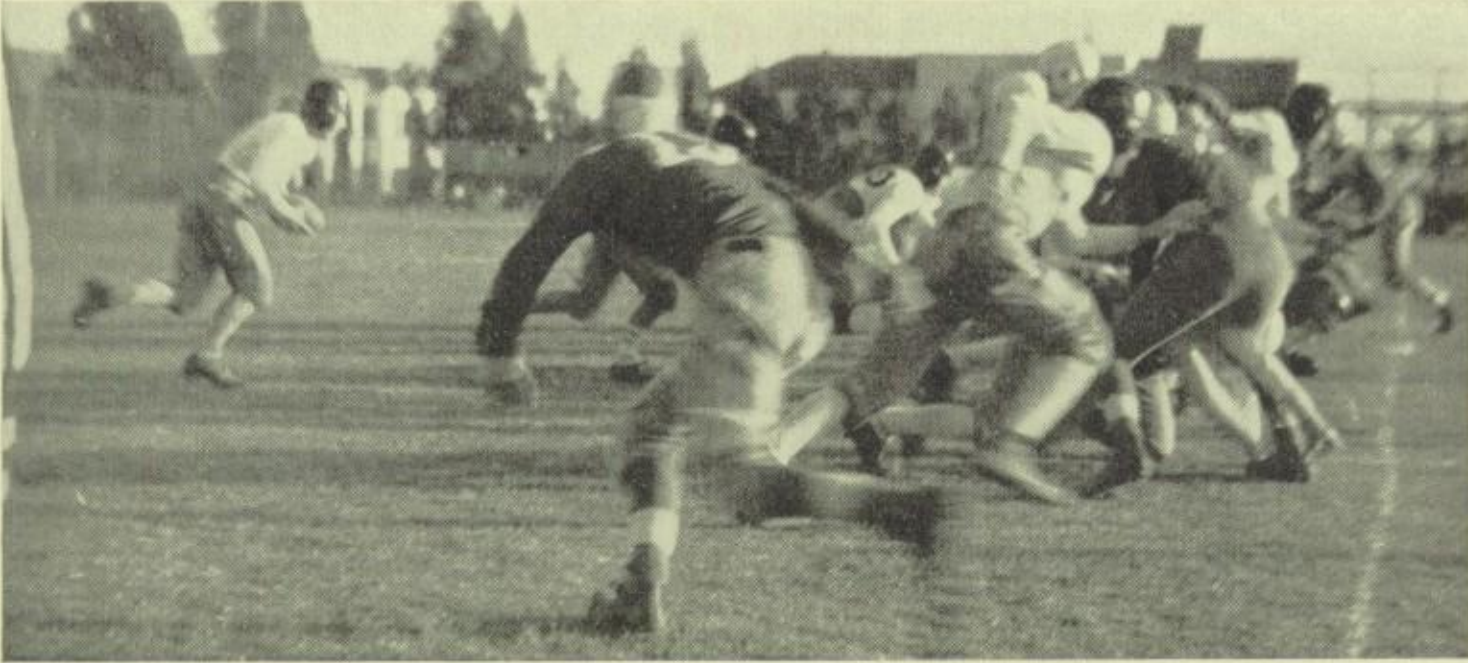

FAIRFAX VS. BELMONT

For the next game Belmont traveled to Fairfax. Both elevens took the field for this game on even terms. Belmont had yet to taste victory that season, while Fairfax had shown nothing since the Franklin tussle.

As was predicted, the game was "even-Steven" and until late in the fourth quarter it appeared that another scoreless tie would be added to the records of competition between these rivals. There had been three before in their previous nine years of competition. Fairfax had but one victory, scored in 1931, 7-0. However, their second victory in ten years came that afternoon. In the last three minutes of the game, Howard Tobin, Colonial halfback, intercepted a Hilltopper pass on his own fifteen-yard line and aided by great interference work on the part of his teammates, he raced 85 yards down the sidelines, to a touchdown. A pass scored the conversion. Tobin was active all day, getting off on two jaunts of twenty-five yards and kicking nicely for a 40-yard average. Leonard Fredericks and Neil Rasmussen also stood out for Fairfax.

B FOOTBALL

FAIRFAX VS. POLYTECHNIC

The following week, Fairfax traveled to Polytechnic high where they were beaten by the Mechanics, 20-0. All three touchdowns were made in the second half on Colonial misplays. Leonard Bach, Ralph Harrison, Leonard Fredericks, and Howard Tobin starred for Fairfax.

FAIRFAX VS. ROOSEVELT

The perennial Rooseveltian jinx still held good in this game although Fairfax had no championships at stake. Consequently they dropped this tussle without too many misgivings, 12-0, on the winners' field. This game closed the football careers of eleven seniors. They included: Captain Church Lorch, Neil Rasmussen, Harry Kruer, Ted Hodgett, Dick Magee, Bill Elliot, Bennie Butts, Bob Lane, Jimmy Granbery, Don King, and Morgan Reimers.

CLASS "B" FOOTBALL

Six lettermen, two full strings from the 1932 team, and one string of former Class "C" players was the wealth of material that greeted Coach Ray Call when practice opened for the 1933 football season. The team that emerged from this material won four games and lost two.

Opening their season on October 12, Coach Call's team battled to a scoreless tie with the Franklin high lightweights on the Panther's field. However, Franklin was forced to forfeit this game because an ineligible man was competing for them.

The following week against Hollywood the team showed a powerful offensive and defeated the Redshirts, 13-0. The game was held on Van Cleve field.

Their third straight victory came on October 26 when they conquered Jefferson high on the Democrats' field, 7-2. This victory put the Colonials in a four-way tie for first place along with Belmont, Los Angeles, and Polytechnic. This lead was short lived, however, for the next week they were eliminated from the running by Belmont high. The score was 7-0. With only a mathematical chance for the championship remaining the Colonials were definitely put out of the race when, on November 16, they were beaten 6-0 by Polytechnic high on Van Cleve field. In their final game of the season the "Babes" conquered Roosevelt 14-0. Captain Bill Richards and Jimmy Baldwin were outstanding throughout the year.

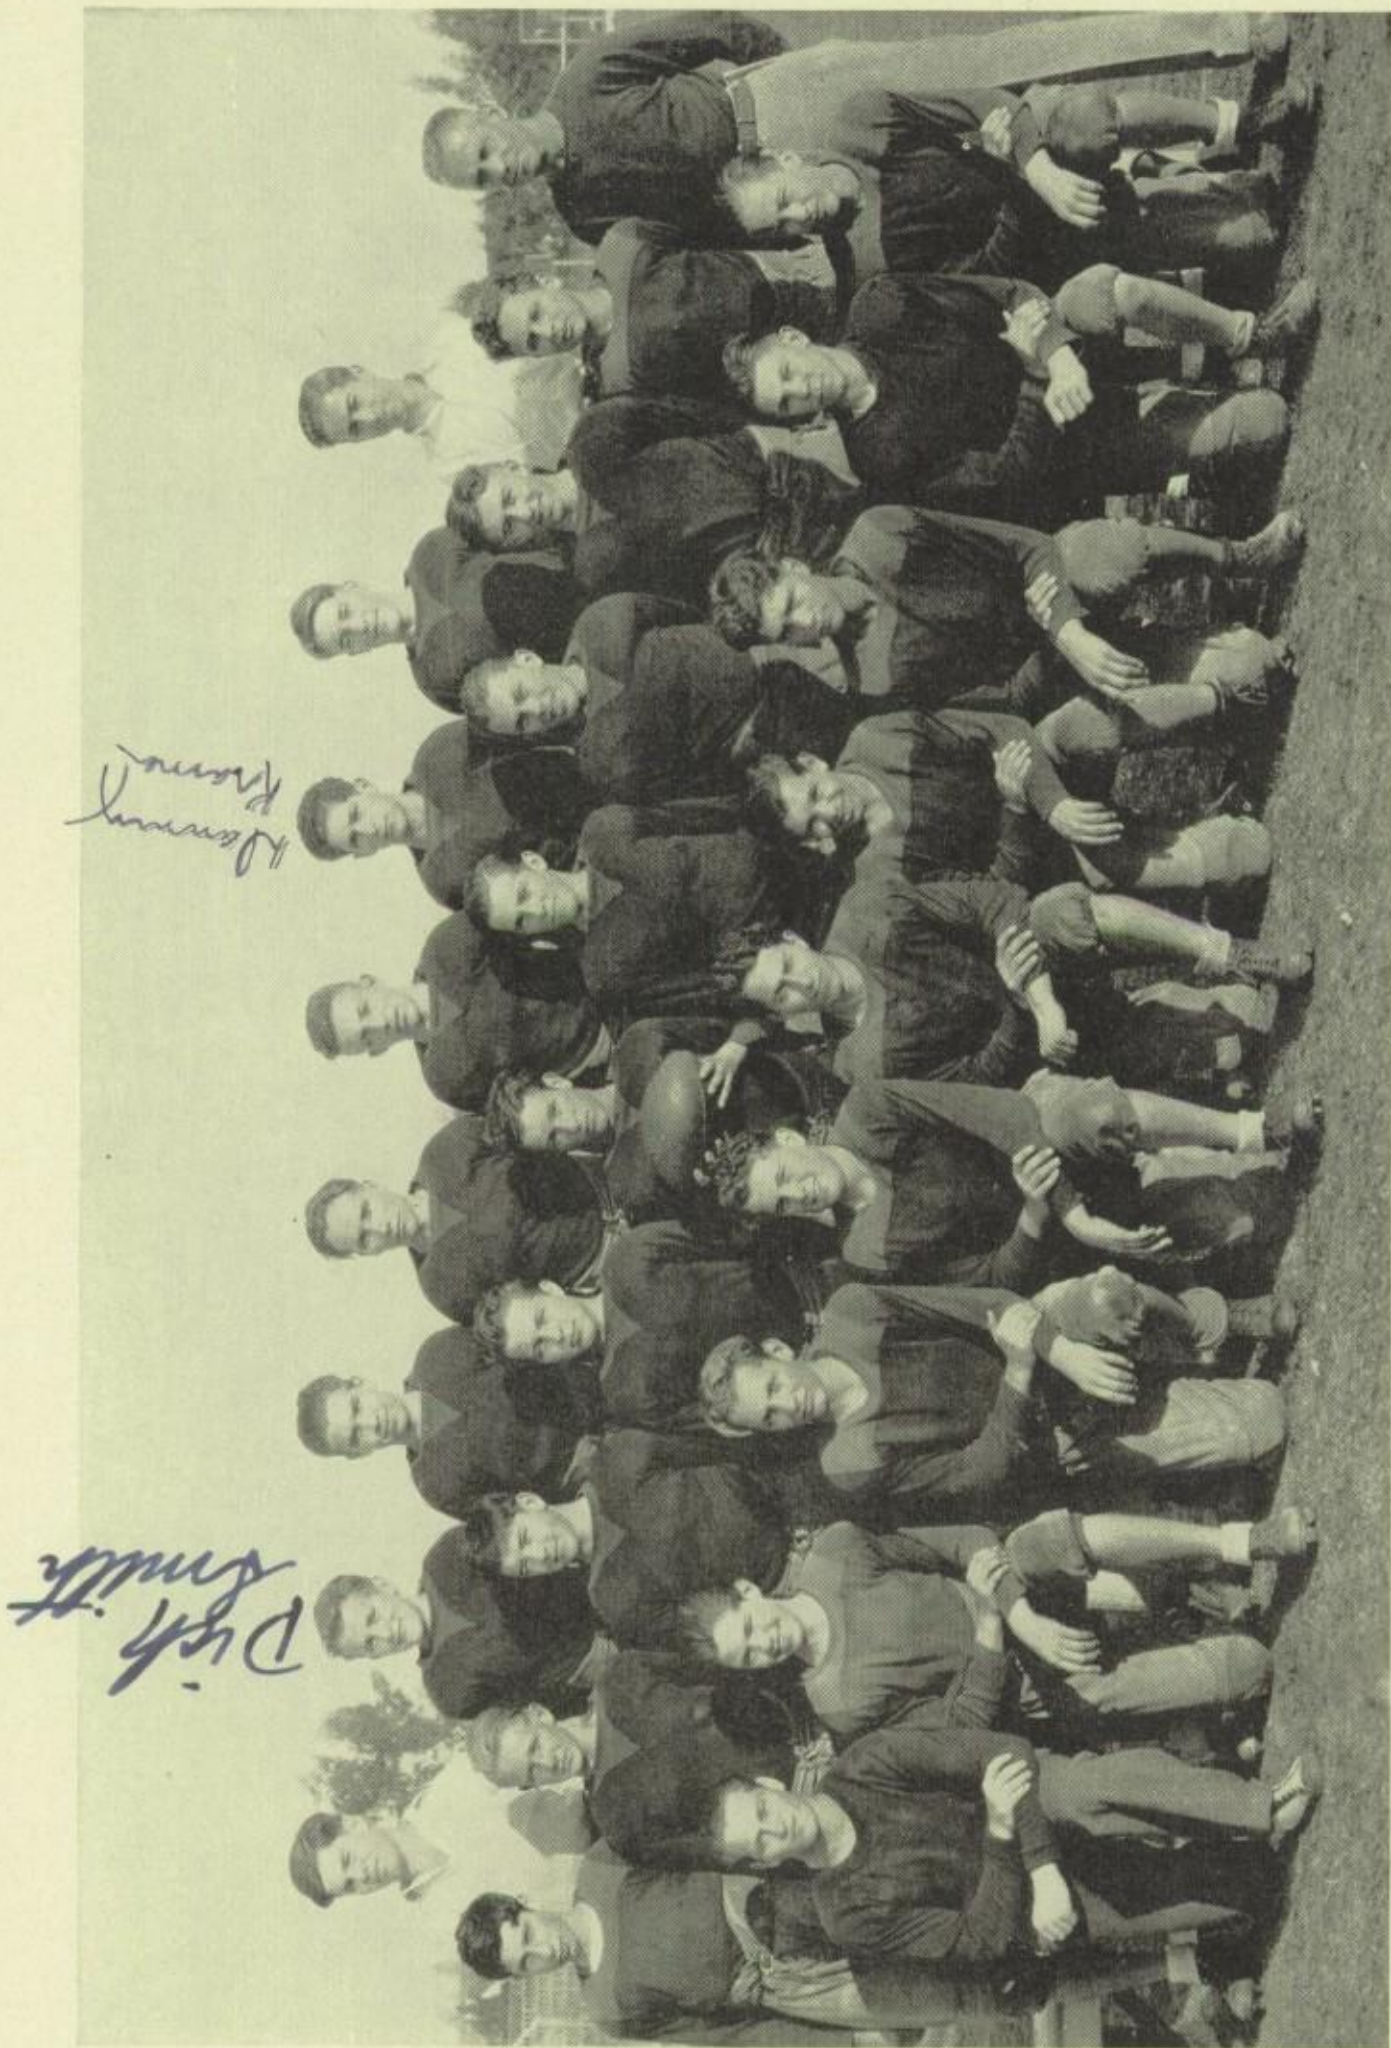

CLASS "C" FOOTBALL

City League champions!

That was the title bestowed on Coach Hugh Welsh's Class "C" football team at the termination of the 1933 season.

This team was one of the finest that ever represented Fairfax. In five games they scored 87 points to six for their opponents. Manual Arts was the only team able to cross their goal. Their record speaks for itself and all credit is due to Coach Welsh.

In successive games they defeated Los Angeles, 6-0; Manual Arts, 13-6; Franklin, 13-0; Belmont, 20-0; and Garfield, 35-0.

CLASS "A" BASKETBALL

Fairfax's 1933-34 basketball team was the surprise quintet of the league. This team had one returning letterman, Captain Kelly Huston, All-City forward of 1932 and then playing his third year of Class "A" basketball. At the beginning of the season the team was said by its coach, Ross Bowen, to be the weakest team in the history of the school. It turned out to be one of the strongest. It won five games and lost one. It tied for the championship along with Los Angeles and Jefferson.

FAIRFAX VS. GARFIELD

In an overtime period which found the Colonials scoring six points to none for the Bulldogs, Coach Ross Bowen's team by a score of 37-31 won its initial victory of the season on December eighth at Garfield high.

Fairfax was on the verge of losing the game when just before the final gun, forward Gail Goodrich sank a one-handed side shot to tie the score, and necessitate an extra period.

This was all the Colonials needed, for in the next three minutes, Gail Goodrich, Douglas Maxam, and Paul Greenlee had accounted for six points while the Bulldog total had remained the same.

FAIRFAX VS. LINCOLN

The following week the Colonials traveled to Lincoln high for their second game which they won, 36-32. This was a close affair which was not decided until the final seconds of the fray. Boccignone, All-City Lincoln forward, scored seventeen points.

FAIRFAX VS. MANUAL ARTS

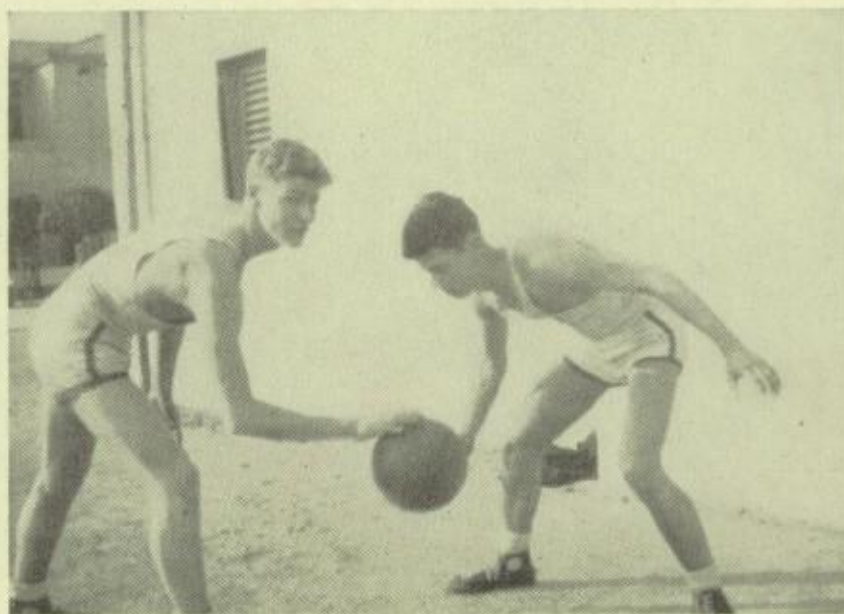

On January 12 when all teams were scheduled to play their third games of the season, there were but three remaining undefeated teams in the league. They were Fairfax, Manual Arts, and Jefferson. Fairfax was slated to play Manual Arts and oddly enough the Colonials found this their easiest tussle of the year. They defeated the Toilers 41-19 in the Fairfax gym. Goodrich was high point man with thirteen digits.

FAIRFAX VS. BELMONT

In a disputed game which finally was settled in Fairfax's favor, the Colonials luckily won their fourth straight game over Belmont high 37-36 on the Colonial floor. This game which was expected to be the Colonials' easiest, turned out to be their hardest. When the game ended both teams claimed victory. The matter was finally taken up by Commissioner Bill Lopez and he awarded the game to Fairfax after checking the records of both teams.

FAIRFAX VS. LOS ANGELES

With four straight victories to their credit and holding the undisputed lead of the City League, Coach Ross Bowen's five on January 23 met their first defeat of the year. It was administered by Los Angeles high school in the Fairfax gym. The score was 37-30. This threw the Colonials into a four-way tie.

FAIRFAX VS. FREMONT

Following their defeat by L.A., the Colonials on Friday, January 26, determinedly came back to defeat Fremont high school, 39-27 on the losers' court. This was their final game of the season and it removed Fremont from their first place berth, left three teams tied for the championship. They were Fairfax, L.A. and Jefferson. Center Ed Press was the star of this game, scoring 12 points. This game closed the basketball careers of Captain Kelly Huston, Gail Goodrich, Woolford Kelley, and Paul Greenlee.

CLASS "B" BASKETBALL

Four lettermen and a team of former Class "C" men formed the nucleus of this team. Despite this material the team won but three games, finished the season with a .500 average. Its main trouble was its failure to uncover a capable shooter. Defensively, this team was strong, but it lacked offensive ability. Its four lettermen who played their second year were: Leonard Mark, Merritt Marer, John Van Deusen, and Bill Hedderly. Their victories were scored over Belmont, 22-21; Manual Arts, 27-14; and Fremont, 27-12. They were defeated by Garfield, 22-14; Lincoln, 35-15; and Los Angeles, 34-19.

CROSS COUNTRY

The 1933 Fairfax cross-country team was one of the most successful that ever represented Fairfax. Although they won but one meet in their dual season, they placed third in the city meet which is really the only important part of the season. The team lost dual meets to the U.C.L.A. frosh, Los Angeles and Roosevelt high.

They defeated Belmont. In the city meet they placed third behind Roosevelt and Manual Arts. The 1932 team placed last in the city which shows the improvement of the 1933 team. Eyvind Earle, Carson George, Deail Riggins, Erwin Davis, and Bain Bain placed for Fairfax in the city. They won letters.

TENNIS

If the practice season had any bearing at all upon the regular scheduled league play, Fairfax's 1934 tennis team would have been champions without the slightest trouble. In that time they won practically every match in which they engaged and they played at least three a week. It began to appear that the league play would be strictly a set-up with the exception of the match with Los Angeles high school.

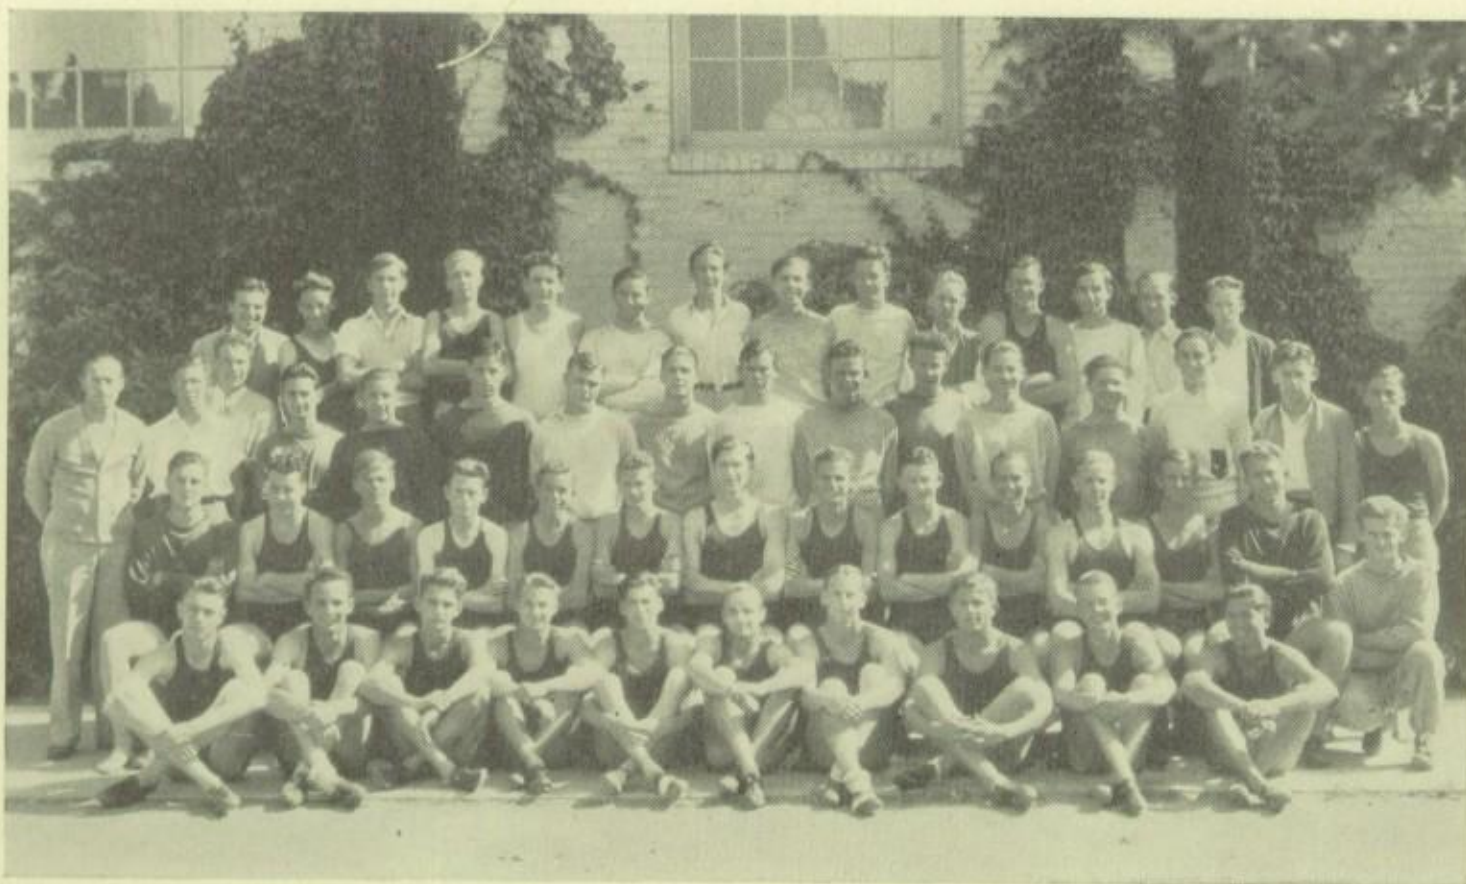

But appearances were deceiving in this case and the Colonials were promptly beaten in their first match by Roosevelt, 15-10. This was followed by a win over Garfield, 25-0. Next they dropped a match to Hollywood, 19-6. They then swept the Lincoln play, 25-0. They were beaten by the championship L.A. team and in their last match defeated Belmont, 25-0.

Outstanding members of this team were Joe Hunt, Reuben Riskind, and Tom Chambers. Hunt was the winner of the Ojai and Southern California singles championships in the 15-year-old and under division. He paired with Riskind to win the double titles in the latter tournament.

CLASS "A" TRACK

Opening their 1934 season on Friday, March 23, Coach Keith Lloyd's Colonial tracksters found little trouble in romping to an overwhelming 76 11/15 to 27 4/15 victory over a weak Roosevelt team. The encounter was held on Van Cleve field.

Bob McCaughey and Les Meisenheimer were outstanding in this meet, both gathering ten points. McCaughey annexed both hurdle events, winning the 120-yard highs in 15.8 and 220-yard lows in 25.2s. Lester Meisenheimer took both sprint events. He won the century in 10.2s and the furlong in 22.6s. The Colonials swept the 440, John Van Dusen, Harry Snow, and Lowell Carpenter finishing in that order.

Following a week lapse in track activities, due to Easter vacation, Coach Keith Lloyd's Colonials journeyed to Franklin high school on April 6, to win their second league encounter. The meet was a triangular affair, Fairfax, Franklin and Garfield competing. Garfield with 37 1/3 points and Franklin with 22 points followed the Colonials who scored 70 1/3 points. The Lloydmen annexed eight first places.

Outstanding in this meet was high jumper Louie Baehr who leaped six feet two inches for a new school record.

B AND C TRACK TEAM

Our team registered their third straight victory of the season on April 13 when they defeated a surprisingly strong Belmont team 57-47. The meet was held on the Hilltoppers' track. The Colonials annexed seven first places. Les Meisenheimer was consistent in winning the 100 and 220 in 10.2 and 23.1 respectively. Bob McGaughey was another double winner, taking both hurdle events.

The team suffered their first and only defeat of the dual and triangular season when, on April 20, they were defeated by a strong Jefferson team but finished ahead of Polytechnic. The scores were: Jefferson, 65; Fairfax 39 $\frac{1}{3}$; Polytechnic, 25 $\frac{2}{4}$. Jefferson was in front at all times, taking five first places and the relay. The highlight of the meet for the Colonials came when John Van Dusen and Harry Snow ran a dead heat to win the 440 in 52.2s.

Following the completion of dual and triangular meet season all City League teams looked forward to the City Meet. The qualifying trials for this meet were held at Fremont high school on April 27. Fairfax qualified ten men for City competition. They were: Les Meisenheimer, 100 and 220; Bob McGaughey, both hurdle events; Jack Cravens, high hurdles; John Van Dusen and Harry Snow, 440; Daeil Riggins, Bain Bain, and Kenneth Flanders, mile; Louie Baehr, high jump; and Dan Carasso, broad jump.

The next week the finals of this meet were held at L.A. high school, Fairfax placing seventh with fifteen points. Bob McGaughey, stellar hurdler, was the only Colonial to nab a first place. He won the high hurdles in 15.7s. John Van Dusen ran a strong race to take second in the 440 event. Louie Baehr took third in the high jump and Dan Carasso fourth in the broad jump.

B AND C TRACK

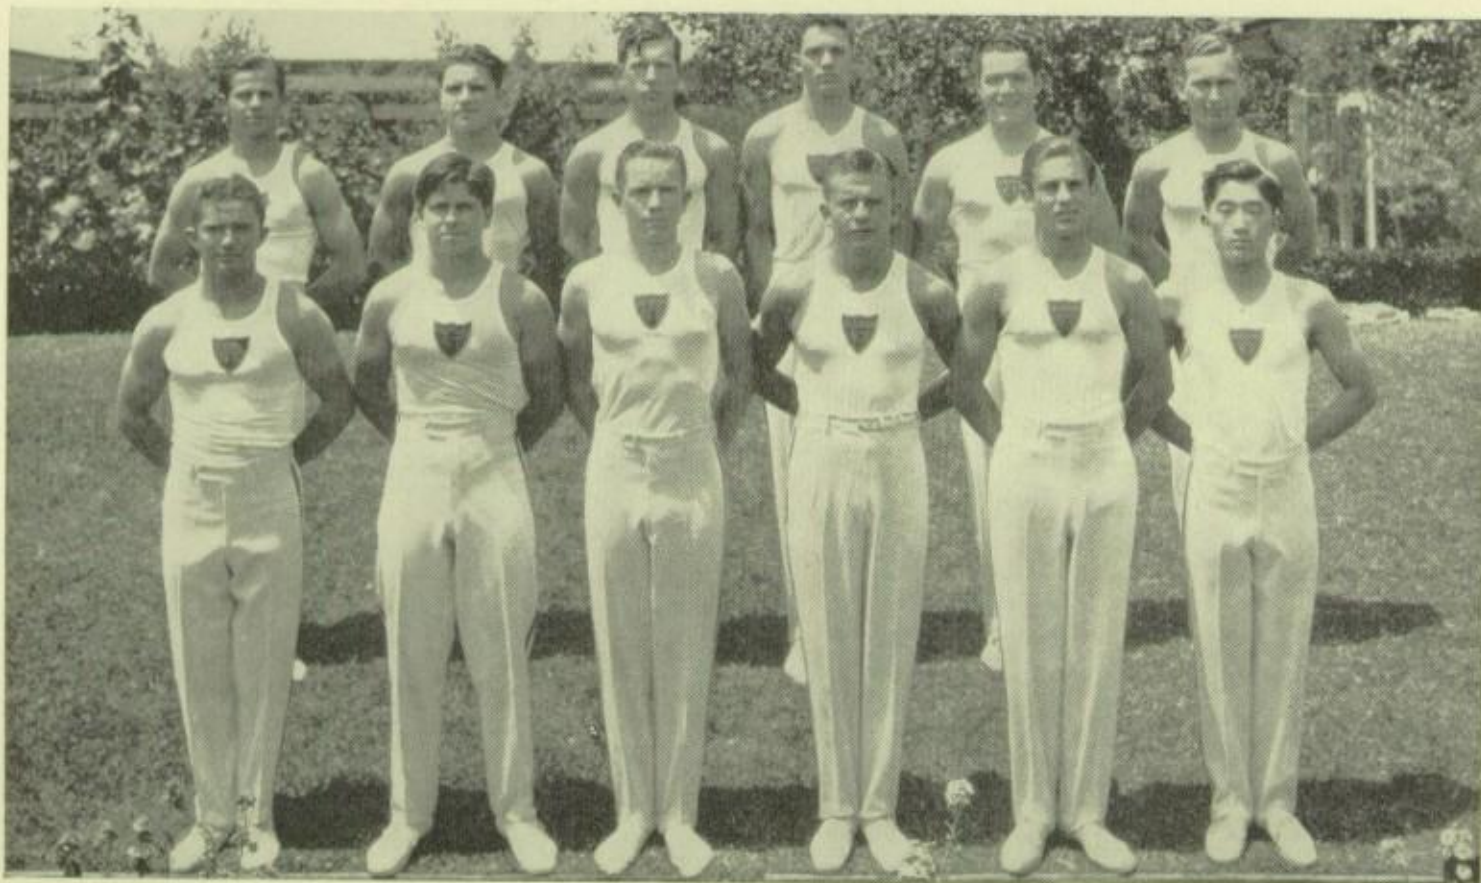

These teams are coached by Ross Bowen and are usually thought of synonymously. The lightweight squad won three of their four dual and triangular meets and placed eleventh in the City meet with five points. The Cee team failed to win a meet and placed tenth in the City with three points. Dick Lebrick, Saul Rowe, and Bill Hauber were responsible for the class B points. Henry Johnson and Jack Snow scored the class C digits.

Summary of the Bee season follows: Defeated Roosevelt 48 $\frac{1}{3}$ to 47 $\frac{2}{3}$; defeated Franklin 40 to 30, and lost to Garfield 40 to 56; defeated Belmont 57 $\frac{1}{6}$ to 36 $\frac{5}{6}$; defeated Jefferson 49 $\frac{5}{6}$ to 25 $\frac{1}{2}$ and defeated Polytechnic 49 $\frac{5}{6}$ to 42 $\frac{2}{3}$.

Summary of the Cee season: Lost to Roosevelt 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 61 $\frac{1}{2}$; defeated Franklin 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 19 and lost to Garfield 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 39; lost to Belmont 18 to 59; lost to Jefferson 21 $\frac{1}{6}$ to 42 and lost to Poly 21 $\frac{1}{6}$ to 35 $\frac{5}{6}$.

GYM TEAM

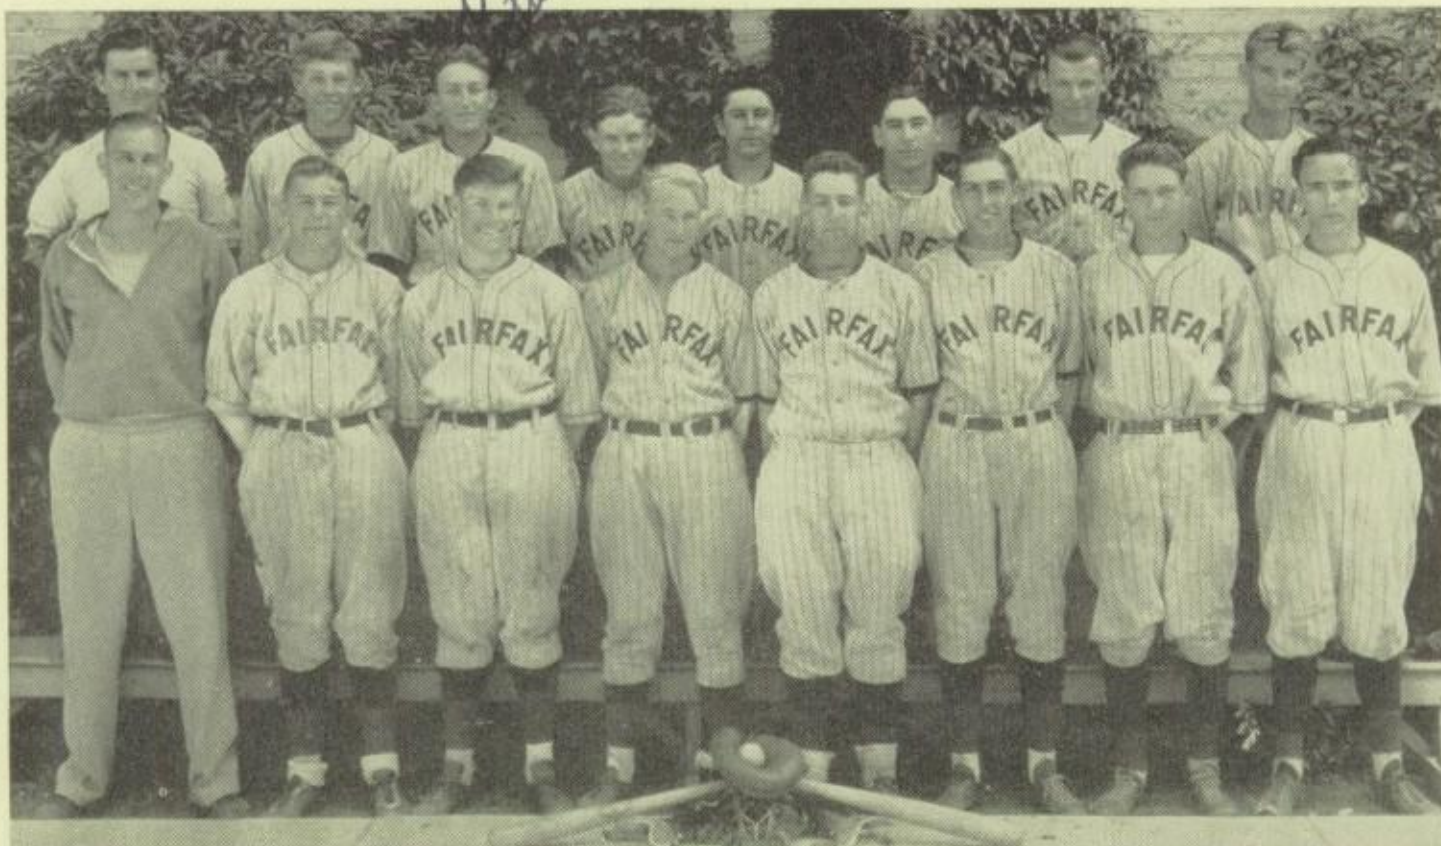

For the first time in its history, Fairfax entered a gym team in actual competition. Previously functioning as a club, the team was entered in the City League with the beginning of the summer semester. Their newness in this field probably accounted for the mediocre success of their season. They won but one meet in defeating Venice in their last match of the season. They were beaten in succession by Franklin, Garfield, and Roosevelt. Eddie Bennet was the only City Meet place winner.

CLASS "A" BASEBALL

Franklin: In what was probably the most auspicious opening day ever staged by a high school, Fairfax opened its baseball season May 11 on Van Cleve field opposing the Franklin nine. Taking part in the elaborate ceremonies were such sports notables as Coach Bill Spaulding, football mentor at U.C.L.A., Irvine "Cotton" Warburton, All-American football star from U.S.C., and Jim Thorpe, generally regarded as the greatest athlete who ever lived. Along with Principal R. G. Van Cleve, all made short addresses to the huge crowd who turned out for the occasion. The affair was arranged by T. R. Cunningham.

Coach Frank Shaffer's ball team, keeping step with the importance of the occasion, defeated the Franklin nine 4-3 when Catcher Harold McComb broke up the game with a last inning home run. The teams were tied at three all when McComb who had the moment before made a goat of himself by muffing a squeeze play signal, cracked out his circuit smash.

Fremont: This game on Tuesday, May 15, was practically a duplicate of the Franklin fracas. It was the same situation that found the score tied 7-7 in the final inning only to see relief pitcher Jack LaGrass step up to the plate and slap the first ball pitched far into left field for a home run and give Fairfax an 8-7 verdict. This was Fremont's first loss in three years of City League baseball competition. Coach Shaffer was forced to use three pitchers. Ralph Harrison started the tussle and was relieved by Hubert Kittle, who was in turn relieved by LaGrass.

Los Angeles: The Colonials' two games previous to the L.A. struggle had been commonly conceded as being "close". But those battles quickly yielded their title when on May 18, Coach Frank Shaffer's team encountered Los Angeles high's Romans on Van Cleve field.

This tussle went eleven innings. After a brief scoring sprint in the first four innings in which both nines were all tied up with four markers each, neither team could push across a tally until the eleventh stanza. In their half the Romans loaded the bases and three runs scored was the result.

This was only a spur to the Colonials for in their half they retorted with four runs. Opening the inning, Bucko singled and Maxam doubled. McComb, next up, doubled, scoring both men ahead. Jean Gleis then came up and hit for two more, sending McComb home with the tying tally. Jack LaGrass fanned and then Stan Cohn broke up the fracas with the fourth double that frame.

Jean Gleis and Stan Cohn were responsible for nine of the Colonials' sixteen hits. Gleis was good for five out of six while Cohn hit four out of five.

Hollywood: Sewing up the game in the first inning instead of the usual last, Coach Frank Shaffer's Colonials won their fifth victory when they defeated Hollywood on Tuesday, May 22, 5-4 on the losers' diamond.

The Shaffermen hopped on Eric Moncur, starting Redshirt pitcher, to score four runs via Jean Gleis' triple with the bases loaded.

Hubert Kittle, although troubled with a severe cold, pitched almost hitless ball until the sixth frame after the Shieks scored two runs in the fourth and sixth innings. Ralph Harrison relieved him. Kittle also scored the deciding run in the fourth stanza when he beat out a bunt, stole second, went to third on an out, and came home on a fielder's choice.

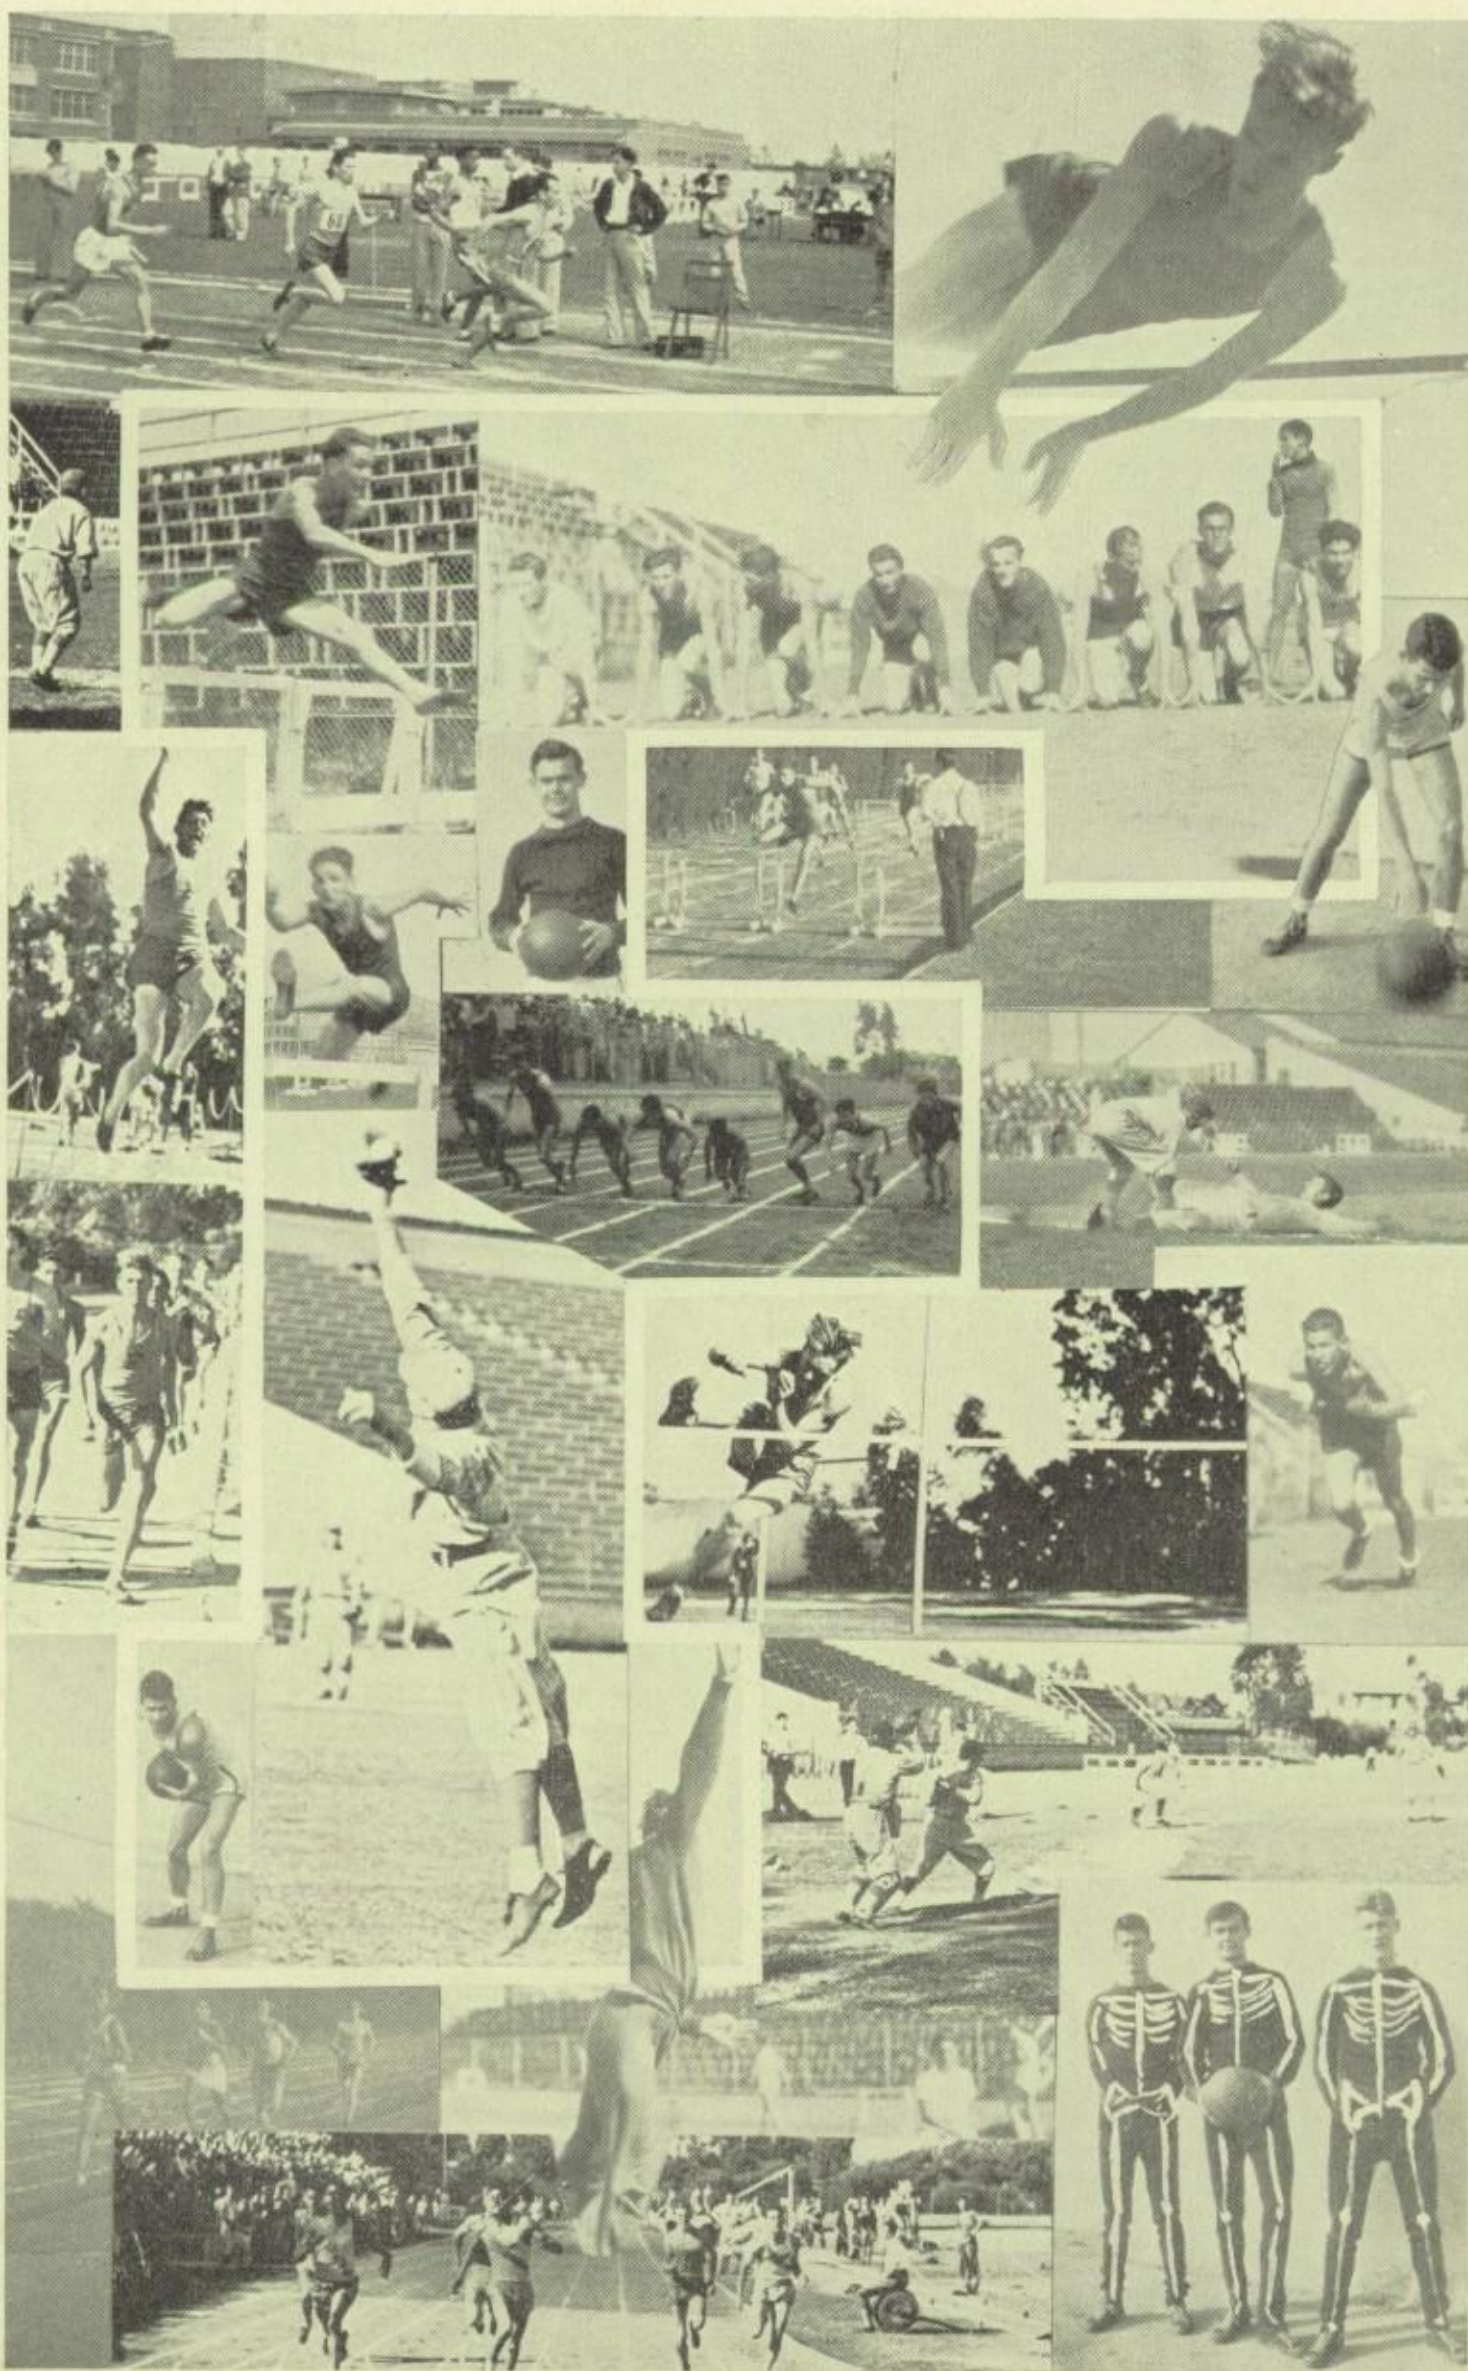

Garfield: By defeating the Bulldogs on June 1, Coach Frank Shaffer's team came into sole possession of the City League leadership. Lincoln, with whom they had been tied, found themselves losing to L.A. high on the same day. As was the habit during the season a large crowd was in attendance on Van Cleve field.

Harold McComb was a big factor in the Colonial win. He hit four for four, drove in four runs, and scored three himself.

The Shaffermen found themselves four runs behind when they came in for their half of the first inning. The Bulldogs had taken advantage of some lazy ball on the part of the Colonials to score four markers in their half. Fairfax steadily overcame this however, scoring two runs in the first, two more in the third, three in the fifth, and four in the sixth.

Ralph Harrison hurled steady ball to hang up his second win of the season.

As the annual goes to the press it is rumored that the remainder of the scheduled baseball season will be canceled in order to prevent spread of infantile paralysis. If this is done Fairfax will stand at the head of the City League, and should a championship be awarded on the standings to date, Coach Shaffer's "never say die" horsehiders will gladly accept the title.

• Africa has been called the "Dark Continent" for many centuries. Swift, angry rivers, dense, tropical jungles, wide plateaus, and dreary forests so thick that the sun's rays cannot penetrate to the shaded paths within, cover vast areas. Foamy, white waterfalls gush frantically along over beds of colorful rocks and stones. The air is filled with the incessant hum of bees which swarm around the sweet tropical blossoms. Africa can still carry the name of the "Dark Continent" and be rightfully named.
